

HEAD OF MOTOR CAR COMPANY INDORSES LINCOLN ROAD PLAN

Points to Appian Way as Precedent for Highway Memorial.

Strong indorsement of the plan to have the Lincoln Memorial in the form of a road from Washington, D. C., to the battlefield of Gettysburg, is given by Benjamin Briscoe, president of the United States Motor Company, in an interview with the subject of the American road building and its needs. Mr. Briscoe has been chiefly interested in the manufacture of automobiles and in co-operative industry, and it is not generally known that he has exerted an increasing influence in highway development throughout the country.

"The Lincoln Memorial Road Association," said Mr. Briscoe, "is rendering an excellent service in its advocacy of such a road. In studying the question how to express in the most fitting manner our appreciation of Lincoln's life work, I am forced to the conclusion that the memorial should be a great highway rather than a monument, statue, bridge, or any other thing. Even if we take from the question every argument or motive that might be prompted by the use of an automobile, or the ownership of one, disassociate it entirely from our national good roads movement and admit nothing but the which determines the fitness of the memorial, the road still seems to be the logical and inevitable choice."

Points to Appian Way.

"The reasons are sound, if not obvious. The greatest memorial the world has ever known is the Appian Way in Italy, built by Appian Claudius 300 years B. C. It was celebrated for its beautiful monuments, its temples, and the sumptuous villas that arose on either side of it. Though out of the age it has been called the 'Queen of Roads.'"

"No particular engineering difficulties would be encountered. The country is rolling and offers fine landscape effects. The plan submitted by the Lincoln Memorial Road Association, suggests a road 200 feet wide in the center and smooth highways on each side, 40 or 50 feet wide, one to be used by swift moving vehicles like automobiles—the other for carriages and wagons."

"The road would be used by hundreds of thousands of tourists. The full value of such a memorial could be appreciated only by imagining a two hours' ride through Maryland and Pennsylvania, with the Blue Ridge mountains in sight part of the time, six or seven hours spent at the world renowned battlefield, and with its memories of Round Top and Seminary Ridge, and by traversing other noted spots, including the scene of Pickett's charge."

Suitable Termini.

"Looking at the matter from the standpoint of road improvement," concluded Mr. Briscoe, "it would seem that 'The Lincoln Way' certainly would become the nucleus of a great transcontinental highway to be built by the States through which it will pass. The cost of the memorial road has been estimated to be about $2,000,000. With this sum, it will be possible to provide a fitting terminus on the battlefield of Gettysburg, while in the city of Washington a magnificent architectural development can be placed at the entrance to the road. It is proposed to make this terminus sufficiently impressive to meet the views of those who demand something tangible and substantial wholly within the National Capital."

Five-Man Duckpin Prize Carried Off by Y. M. C. A.

Announcement was made today of the official results of the District duckpin tournament, which has just closed on the palace alleys.

The Y. M. C. A. five-man team took first honors in class A, with a total of 1,583 pins, just two more than the number made by the team which finished second.

Carroll and Ricketts won the class A doubles, with the highest number of pins made in doubles during the tournament. The score was 688.

The individual class A prize was won by Hawksworth, with a high score of 89. Hawksworth also won all the events which went to the high score individual bowler in matches between five-man teams, doubles and singles.

In the class B five-man team match the Pearls scored close to 100 points more than the Y. M. C. A. five, which captured the class C prize. The score of the winners was 1,569.

Gundeschelmer and Elker won the class B doubles with a score of 640. Crampton took first prize in the class B singles.

Greene's Support Poor in Manhattan Game

NEW YORK, May 14.—Raged work in the field and inability to hit timely today given as the reason for the defeat of the Catholic University by the Manhattan College baseball team by the score of 8 to 2.

Chief Greene, for the visitors, pitched a grand game and should have left here with a victory. His own team mates made seven hits behind him. The winners put up a fine exhibition of fielding, several hits that would have resulted in certain runs being nipped in the bud by remarkably fast returns of the ball.

The score by innings:
Catholic University..... 0 0 1 0 0 0 1—2
Manhattan College..... 0 0 2 0 0 0 0—8

Batteries—Catholic University, Greene, Ryan and McDonnell; Manhattan, Hanley, Stocker and Connolly.

Central High's Track Prospects Brightened

Central High School of Washington is today already counting on victory in the annual high school outdoor spring meet, following the excellent showing made in Baltimore yesterday at the intercollegiate and interscholastic meet given under the auspices of Johns Hopkins University. With two of their best men unable to enter the events, Central managed to tie for third place with runs scored, sixteen points. The meet was won by the Tome School with a score of forty-three.

Captain Reuter, of the Dark Blue and White, won the quarter handily in a little more than 32 seconds. Goodman, a novice at the same school, surprised everyone by pushing the crack intercollegiate runner, Patterson, to a supreme effort to win the 22-yard dash.

University of Virginia lost to Johns Hopkins in the collegiate events by a score of 12 to 4 to 2-3.

BIG DAY IN CLOSED TENNIS PROMISED FOR CHEY CHASE

Conclusion of Spring Championships to Draw Crowd.

Many interesting matches will be played tomorrow in the closed tennis tournament of the Chevy Chase Club, and all society is expected to witness the conclusion of the spring championships.

The men's and women's singles, the mixed doubles, and the men's and women's doubles, semi-final, and final rounds are expected to be brought to a close.

Interest yesterday centered in the challenge round of the men's scratch singles match, in which the challenger, Lee McClung, succeeded in defeating J. Upshur Moorehead, title holder, after five hard sets. McClung won the first two sets by 6-3, and lost the next two to the former champion by the same scores, 6-2. The final set went to McClung after hard work by both.

Summaries of yesterday's play follow:

Men's singles, scratch, challenge round for the title and the Navy Cup, offered by former Secretary of the Navy Newberry, McClung (scratch) vs. Moorehead (scratch), five sets, McClung won, 6-3, 6-2, 2-6, 2-6, and 10-8. Mixed doubles, handicap, second round—Miss A. Downing and Dunn (scratch) defeated Miss Allen and Long (plus one-half 10) by default. Semi-final round—Miss A. Downing and Dunn (scratch) defeated Miss Chew and Colton (minus 15), 6-2, 0-6, and 7-5. Women's doubles, handicap, semi-final round—Miss Chew and Miss H. Downing (minus one-half 14) defeated Miss Sargent and Miss A. Downing (plus one-half 15), 6-1 and 6-4.

Matches to Be Played.

The matches for tomorrow follow: Men's singles, handicap, semi-final round—Lee McClung (minus 14) vs. C. B. Brown (minus 14), the winner to meet W. L. Littlefield (minus 15) in the final round.

Women's singles, scratch, semi-final round—Miss Chew (scratch) vs. Miss H. Downing (scratch), the winner to meet Mrs. Brooks (scratch) in the final round.

Women's singles, scratch, final round—Miss Shepard vs. Miss Chew. Mixed doubles, handicap, first round—Miss M. Greble and McClung (minus 14) vs. Mrs. Bell and Stead (scratch). Second round—Miss Lawson and Wilcox (minus 15) vs. winner of McClung-Greble-Bell-Stead match.

Men's doubles, handicap, second round—Ellis and Pejacsevich (scratch) vs. Long and Low (plus 15). Semi-finals—Cassels and Hackett (scratch) vs. winners of Ellis-Pejacsevich-Low-Long match.

Women's doubles, handicap, final round—Misses Greble (minus 14) vs. Miss Chew and Miss H. Downing (minus 15).

Chamber Team Plays At Old Point Saturday

The first of a series of trips of the Washington Chamber of Commerce baseball team will be taken Saturday when the Old Point Comfort team, leaders in the Tidewater League of Virginia, will be played at Old Point.

Steady practice by the team under the capable coaching of Phil King has kept pace with the many preparations which have been made by the routers who will accompany the baseball players. While the line-up has not been announced, the strongest possible combination will be used, as the Chamber team is anxious to repeat the victory of last season.

About 150 routers will go down armed with noise producers of all sorts, and a lively time has been assured. Commissioner Rudolph has consented to lend his presence and throw out the first ball. The military band from Fort Monroe will furnish music during the game.

Other trips will be taken by the Chamber of Commerce team. The excursion planned for New York is meeting with unusual favor, and arrangements are being successfully carried.

Coach King expects to announce his choice of line-up later in the week.

Ten Errors Figure in Central High Defeat

Despite Central High's defeat at the hands of the Princeton Freshmen at Princeton, N. J., yesterday by the score of 17 to 7, the Dark Blue and White squad has not lost hope of winning the Washington interscholastic championship.

Yesterday's game was the most lopsided played in years. The Washington men seemed out of shape and showed none of the team work which has characterized their work here. Beginning tomorrow, the Central coaches will give the squad the hardest kind of work in preparation for the remainder of the high school games.

Shock Roeteler's work in the box was off color. He was unable to stop the hard hitting Freshmen, who landed on his assortment for a total of 14 hits. Central's ten errors aided the winners in riling up the score. The score by innings:

Princeton..... 4 0 0 3 0 2 2 4—17
Washington..... 0 1 0 2 0 4 0 7—7
Batteries—Freshmen, Laird, Lear, Wood and Carter and Wall; Central, Roeteler and Warner.

GUNS ARE DRAWN IN RAID ON SPEAK EASY IN MARYLAND TOWN

Sheriff and Deputy Forced to Use Rough Tactics at Emory Grove.

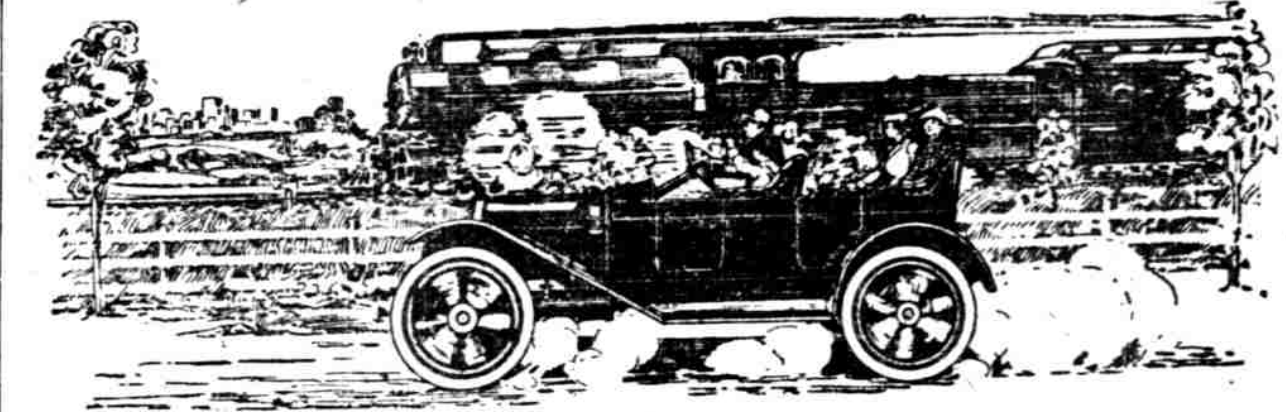

Following two exciting raids made on an alleged speakeasy at Emory Grove, on the Laytonsville, Md., pike, and on a picnic at Boyds, Md., the county jail at Rockville is today taxed to its capacity.

The raid at Emory Grove was made by Sheriff Ed Vielt and Chief Deputy Peyton Whelan at 1 o'clock this morning. The picnic was raided by the same officials shortly before 3 o'clock.

The arrests of a negro woman named Ellen Stewart and six negro men at Emory Grove were accomplished only after Sheriff Vielt and his chief deputy had resorted to rough tactics. At one time, according to Sheriff Vielt, the negroes were getting the best of the two county officials, and it was necessary for them to draw their guns in order to get the prisoners into the sheriff's automobile.

Receiving news of the negro picnic disturbance at Boyds, Vielt and Deputy Whelan hastened to the picnic grounds. They found many of the picnickers intoxicated. Seven picnickers were arrested.

Several gallons of hard cider and about fifteen gallons of whisky are said to have been confiscated at the Emory Grove place which was raided.

Eliminate the Time Table and Its Annoying Restrictions—Get Over Being "A Watch in Hand Commuter"

It's an easy thing to rid yourself of all this if you will only buy a Paige-Detroit.

You may think it is an investment you can't afford, but if you will stop and figure it out, you will find it is an economy.

PAIGE-DETROIT
Guaranteed for One Year Repair Parts at Cost
4-Cylinder, 4-Cycle, 25-H. P.

Touring Car, with rear seats removed, carrying capacity 31x36 inches

The business you did not get last month because you did not have a car might pay for a Paige-Detroit. Just a few months' doctor bills of some families would pay for it. Suppose you charge off 20% per year for depreciation—it's still a good investment.

You can come and go as you please—the Paige-Detroit is equal to any emergency. It's simple—easy to drive—will handle well in crowded traffic—is an ideal car to get about with—takes up little room in a garage—rides very comfortably—does not tilt sideways—has more H. P. per pound of weight than even the most expensive cars—it hardly ever gets out of order—tire expense is very little—car will run 250 miles on one tank of gasoline.

It's a high grade light car, which is in a class by itself. We had no competition at the New York and Chicago shows. The fact that we have twice increased our making orders and have shipped cars to practically every State in the Union, as well as large orders abroad, furnishes some indication of the popularity and success of Paige-Detroit cars.

There is no other car which has the amount of reserve strength—simplicity—efficiency—wonderful hill climbing ability—low weight.

CUMMINS HEIR TO HALE'S DRAPERIES; DISASTER IMPENDS

When Iowa Farmers Hear of Senator's Flossy Curtains They'll Roar Lustily.

Out in Iowa, when Albert J. Cummins first ran for governor, they used to charge him with being a "blooming aristocrat who never drank anything but champagne, and hated awfully to speak to an ordinary man."

Cummins proved that it wasn't so, and won. But the ancient charge is likely to be revived. It has been discovered that the curtains of each window of Senator Cummins' office suite cost $20.

Great, heavy velvet draperies, tied with massive silken cords, lined with the daintiest paw silk, these splendid but severely simple hangings are testimonial to the fine taste and money recklessness of somebody.

No other offices in the Senate building have anything approaching in elegance these splendid hangings. They may or may not get their owner in political trouble. But he really is not responsible for them.

The hangings were inherited with the office suite. The offices used to belong to Senator Hale of Maine. He was chairman of Appropriations, and entitled to whatever he liked. He had it, too.

When Senator Hale moved out as a Senator, his suite went to Cummins. While it was a pretty gorgeous place for an ordinary Senator, it wasn't much but a storage room for the elegant Mr. Hale. He didn't use it regularly, having an office at the Capitol building.

DEATH, AS UMPIRE, CALLS BATTER OUT ON THIRD STRIKE

Amateur Falls Dead After Failure to Drive Out Badly Needed Hit.

NEW YORK, May 14.—While playing ball yesterday afternoon on the old Westchester Golf Links, Charles Washauer, thirty-eight years old, was stricken ill at the home plate after "three strikes" had been called, and died before medical aid could reach him.

Acute heart trouble brought on by the excitement of trying to make a hit at a critical point in the game is said to have been the cause of his death.

Washauer, with Daniel J. Sherry and James Sherry, and a number of younger men, met on the grounds yesterday for two scrub nines, and engaged in a hotly contested game.

At the time Washauer was stricken he was at the bat, and his close friends, the Sherry brothers, were the opposing battery, Daniel Sherry catching, and his brother James pitching. The score was in favor of the nine in the field, and when Washauer went to bat a run was badly needed. He breathed deeply as he made, one after another, three terrific but vain sweeps at the ball.

At the third endeavor, and as the umpire called out, he was seen to reel and fall backward. At first his act was thought to be a joke; but as he failed to rise, his companions became frightened and ran to his aid.

Washauer was taken to the hospital, but died before medical aid could reach him.

Club Members Threaten Suit Against Minister

BOSTON, May 14.—Members of the Chilton Club, composed of fashionable women, whose application for a liquor license caused the Rev. Cortland Myers to call the club "the vestibule of hell," and to say very harsh things about the women, may sue the minister for libel.

A woman who would consent to have her name enrolled as a member of the club is fit only to be the wife of the devil," Mr. Myers is said to have thundered from his pulpit in Tremont Temple. The club will consider finally at its next meeting what action it will take.
